

Dear {Name},

I'd like to attend Dynatrace Perform 2026 in Las Vegas this January 26–29.

Perform is an opportunity to learn directly from Dynatrace leadership and product experts and get valuable training that I can put into practice right away, helping our organization use the platform to analyze, automate, and innovate faster.

Additionally, over 2,000 DevOps professionals, SREs, and security and cloud experts will be attending, making it a great place to network and learn how peers are driving their businesses forward.

Here's why it's so valuable:

- Two full days of keynotes, learning sessions, and platform announcements
- 1:1 time with the makers in expert-led workshops and breakout sessions
- 40+ training sessions

Plus, if I register before September 30, the conference pass is only USD $1195—and includes access to all keynotes and leadership sessions, as well as all breakout sessions, workshops, and networking events.

I'd be happy to write a post-conference report, sharing with other members of the team what I've learned and how we can implement these tools and techniques to gain an elevated level of understanding into our business that accelerates growth and drives innovation.

Thanks,
